

Colonel Dr. Mariana Jinga is a primary care physician in gastroenterology, doctor of medical sciences and Medical Director, Deputy Commander at the Central Military Emergency University Hospital, "Dr. Carol Davila", Bucharest, Romania, as well as associate professor, head of the Clinic of Internal Medicine and Gastroenterology at the University of Medicine and Pharmacy of the same hospital.

She has numerous professional affiliations with national and international scientific societies. Moreover, she has participated in over 280 scientific events and training courses nationally and internationally and has over 400 articles and scientific papers published or communicated in the country and abroad, 28 books, and chapters in specialized books in national publishing houses and as an author, coordinator, or co-author.