

Since 1991 Dr. De Angelis has been working at the AO Città della Salute e della Scienza in Turin, Molinette Hospital, first as a medical assistant, then as a co-responsible assistant and now as a medical director of gastroenterology and digestive endoscopy, in the complex structure under the university management of gastrohepatology. , directed by Prof. Mario Rizzetto.

In particular since 1992 he has dedicated himself to emergency endoscopy in the field of gastrointestinal bleeding, to both push-type and video-capsule enteroscopy, to chromoendoscopy with both vital and virtual dyes (NBI).

Dr. is a member of multiple societies and associations from Italy and internationally. To name a few: Dr. De Angelis has been the Regional Delegate for Piedmont of SIPAD - (Italian Society of Pathology of the Digestive System), he was elected President then was given the position of Past-Coordinator and manager of European Group for Endoscopic Ultrasound (EGEUS) and he was a member of the AIGO National Commission for Endoscopy and of the multidisciplinary working group on Pancreatic Cancer of the ASO San Giovanni Battista of Turin.