

Dr. Andrea Anderloni is an expert in Gastroenterology and Digestive Endoscopy.

Graduated in 1998 in Medicine and Surgery, he specializes in Gastroenterology and Digestive Endoscopy in 2002 and completed his education with a PhD in Gastroenterology and Digestive Endoscopy in 2005 and a Master II level in EUS diagnosis and Operations in 2011.

He deals mainly of the diagnosis and treatment of biliopancreatic diseases and pancreatic cancer. He also boasts a great experience in the execution of digestive endoscopies, colonoscopies, polypectomies, diagnostic and operative ultrasound endoscopies, ERCP, cholangioscopies.

Author of scientific publications, currently Dr. Anderloni works as a freelance manager as Head of the Bilio-Pancreatic Operative Endoscopy service at Humanitas in Milan.